About us

Founded and managed by forward thinking industry professionals, New Leaf has been there and done that. We recognized an industry desperate for a whole new approach, and to us here at New Leaf, a whole new approach, means bringing integrity, transparency, and partnership to every interaction we have with clients, customers, and partners alike. New Leaf was built on a foundation of fanatical customer care and client support, but it doesn't stop there. We bring innovative service and sales solutions that we build with you, meaning each program is crafted and personalized just for your business and your customers' experience.

Today, as one of the few remaining independent third-party administrators, we continue to be one of the fastest growing companies in the industry supporting millions of customers just like you!

New Leaf works close with Plant-It. Founded in 1992 by the singer John Denver, Plant-It 2020 is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, private foundation that has set numerous benchmarks in the forestry industry along with many competitive advantages. Our reforestation programs in Africa and Latin America have a strong humanitarian focus. The forest tree-planting programs provide different benefits depending upon such things as geographical location, tree species and so forth.

Plant-It 2020 performs two tree-planting programs: 1) the Forest Tree-Planting Program and 2) the City Tree-Planting Program. There are three types of forest tree-planting program. The first and predominant approach is reforestation (the reestablishment of forest cover) damaged by fire, beetles and other natural disasters. Our reforestation priority is for no-logging locations. Occasionally, we make exceptions for reforesting burn and other deforested locations in potential future thinning locations but we need to be fully satisfied that the overall quality of the project is very high. Our locations in the US and Canada (and sometimes Mexico) fit this criteria.
